CARD OF THANKS.

Though our grief and sorrow for our loved one are very deep at this time, the friends who so generally aided us, both in the awful search at the lake and afterward, have made it much easier for us to bear. To all who extended their loving help to the High School, Sunday School, pastor, teachers and friends; to all who remembered him with beautiful flowers which he loved so much, we take this way to thank you all.

Sad Drowning Accident.

Merle Watson Lost His Life While Fishing In Lake Pennesswassee.

Leon Merle Watson, 17 years old, son of Mrs. H. B. Young by a former marriage, was drowned in Lake Pennesseewassee early Saturday morning.

Friday night he and Clarence Dunham and Donald Bartlett spent the night at Mr. Young's cottage at the head of the lake, and early in the morning before the other boys were up Merle started out fishing alone in the flat bottomed boat.

It was some time before the other boys got up, and when they did they saw the boat adrift off the shore. Merle's coat was lying on the shore, and they thought perhaps he had come in and gone off somewhere, leaving his boat without fastening, so it had drifted away.

As he did not appear and they were unable to get any trace of him, they came to the village for help, and about noon his body was found in about ten feet of water.

Watson had been in the habit of having fainting spells and it is thought he may have had one of these attacks and fell from the boat. One of the oars had drifted in toward the shore and the other was found floating some ways down the lake.

He was a member of the junior class, N. H. S., and a general favorite among his classmates and friends, and his death in this manner came as a great shock to all.

He was born in Norway Dec. 18, 1893, the son of Lee M. and Annie W. Watson. He had lived all his life in Norway and for the past seven years with his mother, Mrs. H. B. Young. Mr. and Mrs. Young had given him every advantage a boy could have. He was a bright scholar, of a retiring disposition and cared more for his books and music than for society. He loved out-door life, camping, fishing, etc. He was an attendant of the Congregational Sabbath school, class No. 5, and was a member of the Castle of the Knights of King Arthur when that order had the first Castle in Norway.

A private funeral was held at the residence of George Cullinan on Orchard street, Monday afternoon at two o'clock. A public service was held at the Congregational church at three o'clock. The pupils of the High school attended in a body. Rev. R. J. Bruce officiated at both services. The flowers were many and beautiful. Music was by the church choir.

NORWAY AND VICINITY

Next Sunday evening at 7 p. m., the delegates to the recent State Convention at Bath will tell the addresses and business of the convention at the Universalist church.

Gladys Klark.

The management desires to announce the coming of the Gladys Klark Company, who opens a 3 day engagement at the Opera House, Norway, commencing Monday evening, June 19. In presenting this attraction the management desires to state that no better company playing at these prices is before the public today. Manager Balfour has made, having years of experience, a careful study of what the public seem to want at popular prices and has their approbation, hence the success of the Gladys Klark Company. The plays presented during the company's stay are late successes and carefully selected and fill the requirements of Miss Klark and her supporting company. Miss Klark is looked upon as one of, if not the best dressed actresses now before the public, and in the play when costumes are essential, Miss Klark's are dreams. Five high class specialties appear at each performance. Sealed Lips is the play selected for Monday evening with prices at 15, 25, 35 cents. Seats are now on sale at Stone's.

Graduating Class Norway High School, 1911

Graduation of Class of 1911.

The graduating exercises of the Class of 1911 of the Norway High School was held at the Norway Opera House, Wednesday evening. The attendance as usual was very large.

Each year as the month of June comes around, there comes with it a class of young men and women who are about to finish their school days and enter upon the activities of life.

This year the class consists of six large boys and fourteen girls and include:

*Marion Eugenia Andrews.
*Hubert Hazen Barker.
Donald Stearns Bartlett.
*Frances Ellen Bartlett.
*Hazel Agnes Bennett.
*Anna Lucenda Brooks.
Clarence Sullivan Dunham.
Lillian Mae Emerson.
*Katherine Laurana Flint.
*Gladys Mae Frost.
Chrystal Bertha Harriman.
Philip Vinton Haskell.
*Jennie Mae Linnell.
*Rilla Beryl McKeen.
Carlene Beryl Millett.
*Edith May Rideout.
*Mabel Ethelyn Sanborn.
*Marion Scribner Smith.
Alton Eugene Whitehead.
Aaron Houghton Yeaton.
*College course.
All others English course.

The stage was prettily decorated with potted plants, evergreen and the stars and stripes. Over the center of the stage was the class motto, Esse quam videri, "(To be is better than to seem)" in white electric lights against a back ground of light green. The seats on the stage were occupied by Principal P. E. Hathaway, Florence Whittum, Caro Beverage, teachers, Wm. F. Faulkner, Sub. master, Emile O. Hermes Superintendant, Dr. L. H. Trufant, Judge William F. Jones, and Herman L. Horne members of the school board.

At eight o'clock to the rythum of the music by Stearn's orchestra the Class of 1911 was marshaled to their place in the hall by Hubert H. Barker.

The exercises were opened with prayer by Rev. Robert J. Bruce, pastor of the Congregational church. The Salutatory was delivered by Rilla Beryl McKeen, who extended a cordial welcome to the parents, friends and citizens, who had gathered to witness the last exercises of the Class 1911, and extended sincere thanks to the school board, Superintendant and teachers for their interest taken in the class and to all who so willingly aided them throughout their high school days.

Jennie Mae Linnell spoke on Popularity, giving as the basis, beauty, intelegence, grace and happiness. True popularity is not dependant upon wealth or luck as it is sometimes thought, but unselfishness, self-unconsciousness and responsiveness are factors in making true popularity.

Aviation was the subject upon which Aaron Yeaton spoke, giving a brief account of the recent aviator meets, the styles and different kinds of machines now in use, the prospect for aviation in years to come.

Gladys Mae Frost spoke on "Self Sacrifice". She told of many incidents where self sacrifice was essential in the foundation of the home, the church and and the country, and of the sacrifices during the Revolutionary and Civil wars while the greatest sacrifice was on the cross when Christ gave his life for mankind.

The Class history was given by Marion S. Smith. A class of thirty members entered the high school in 1907 and twenty have come to graduate. The youngest member a young lady has past sixteen summers while the oldest is twenty or more. The historin gave the most striking characters of each member and closed in saying "we are the most beautiful class that has graduated here in years.

The Independent Voter was the subject of Hubert H. Barkers speech. He spoke of the independent voter in comparison with party voters. The independent voter votes for the man best qualified for the posotion and through him many wrongs have been righted and in the future he will be the means of bringing greater things to pass.

Frances E. Bartlett's essy was entitled "The Maid of Orleans". Heroism was the central theme and she gave several incidents where heroism had accomplished great deeds. One of the greatest examples of heroism was that of Joan of Arc and through her brave deeds the English army was defeated and her country saved. She was devoted maiden to her God and her country and for whose love she was burned at the stake.

Look before you Leap was the subject from which Katherine L. Flint spoke. She said that thought was one of the greatest factors in building character, the thoughts may be of high order or they may be vulgar, but "as a man thinketh so is he". Many times words are spoken in a hasty manner which if not uttered would have given a far better conception of our character and have prevented the influence which go with hasty words to be spread, therefore it is better to look before you leap.

The class prophecy was delivered by Lillian M. Emerson. The prophecy is always a very interesting part of the program and was equally so this year. Miss Emerson chose either the most striking charactistic, or some standing joke, regarding the members and expounded to them their future. Each was presented with a gift that would be most useful in their life vocation, which caused no small amont of applause as they were presented.

Crystal B. Harriman spoke on Influence of Environment. If a person is born in a Christian home and under favorable circumstances his character is of a different type then those born in the home of a low and vulgar family. The latter has more to contend with to reach the highth of the former. Entertainments, socials and books influences character and either help to build or destroy it

Edith May Rideout as valedictorian extended the heartfelt thanks and appreciation of the class to the school board, teachers and parents for the assistance given them during their school life To the class, she urged all to work and strive with the thought in view that this life is but a little bay of the great ocean of eternity," and that we must realize we are working for eternity. "It is not the man or woman who does the great and brilliant things that amounts to the most, but the one who does the little things of life humbly, faithfully and hopefully, always striving toward the ideal."

The Advancement of the Twentieth Century was the subject on which Donald Bartlett spoke. He told of the rapid advancement in electricity, in machinery combustibles and engineering and gave as illustrations several of the latest improvements. He spoke of the remarkable advancement in medical science and surgery, and if in the next 50 years there is as much advancement as in the past 50 years, what will the result be?

Emil O. Hermes, district superintendent of schools gave a brief speech before distributing the diplomas to the graduates. He told the class the story of the Knights who were in quest of the Holy Grail and urged the class to be in search of that which is high and holy.

The Class Ode, the words and music written by Beryl Millett and Marian Andrews, closed the evening's exercises.

E. O. Hermes awarded the Don Seitz prize for scholarship to Edith M. Rideout who received hearty applause from her classmastes and the audience.

The exercises were of unusual merit and nothing but words of praise are said concerning the exercises and the manner in which the program was carried out.

The young ladies were gowned in handsome white dresses, while the young men wore black. Each graduate received a beautiful bouquet of flowers.

The Norway High plays the Paris High next Saturday at the fair grounds. The other two games of the series have been won by Norway.

Several members of Castle Crusaders, K. O. K. A., are spending the latter part of this week in camp at Hanover, with their merlin, Stephen B. Cummings.

Next Sunday will be observed as Children's day at the Methodist church, with a sermon to the children by the pastor at 10:30 a. m. In the evening a concert will be given by the children.

Charles S. Bartlett of Auburn, a Norway boy, delivered an original poem before the Phi Gamma Delta fraternity at its reunion and banquet at the University of Maine. "Uncle Ben" was the subject of the poem, which is a personal sketch of one who was a well known character at U. of M. several years ago.

Dairy Association Meeting.

A meeting of the Norway and Waterford Dairy Testing Association was held at Grange Hall, Wednesday. In spite of the rain there was good attendance.

The subject of the day was the care of corn and was opened by Chas. Hamlin of South Waterford, followed by George Dunn, L. E. McIntire, Arthur Cummings, A. L. Sanderson and others. Prof. Black, State Dairy instructor, was present.

Will Young gave a very interesting account of his herd and their gain in this year's work over that of last year, accounting for this gain solely by the interest and care given them. A bountiful dinner was served at noon. The next meeting of the association will be held with George Dunn.

Thomas Smiley has recently installed a new trolley cash railway system. Each counter is equipped with a cash receiver and connected with the cashier's desk at the rear of the store. Mercy Millett of Springfield, Vt., has accepted the position as cashier and will commence work the first of July. Miss Millett is the daughter of the late Nathan and Augusta Millett of Millettville and has always made her home in Norway except for the past few years when she has been caring for her brother's family at Hanover, Mass., and for the past year at Springfield, Vt. Miss Millett was for a number of years a very successful teacher in the upper primary and has a wide circle of friends in town who will welcome her back. She will make her home with her sister, Mrs. Harriet Porter on Water street.

Norway Municipal Court.

WM. F. JONES, JUDGE.

Monday afternoon several autos came from Center Lovell, bringing Ira A. Andrews, Carl and Harry Durell and several others from that place, who made Judge Jones a call. The story was told by Mr. Andrews, upon which a warrant was issued for the arrest of Carl and Harry Durell for assault upon Andrews. Mr. Andrews was delivering fish at the Brown camps and as he entered the kitchen it was claimed he was assaulted by the Durells. When the officers went to the Durells they went before Justice Cyrus K. Chapman of Fryeburg charging Andrews with assault upon them.

They appeared in court before the Judge and it appeared from the testimony of the Durells that Andrews had been acting as a spy for the game warden and had been attending a little too closely to the size of the fish instead of his duties as guide, for which he was employed.

The Durells and the witnesses, who were men from New York, declared there was no assault upon Andrews. Judge Jones after listening to the complaint, took the parties and their attorneys, who were A. S. Kimball for the Durells and A. J. Stearns for Andrews, to his private office and talked the matter over with them. After giving them some good advice he suggested that they settle their difficulty without further legal hearing, and asked them to shake hands and go home and let the matter drop as they all lived in the same community, and it would be much better for all concerned. After consideration the matter was allowed to drop and the parties returned home.

Monday a civil case was heard before Judge Jones. This was a case of the Hydraulic Press Mfg. Co. of Ohio vs. John F. Wood of Paris. A. J. Stearns was attorney for the plaintiff and A. S. Kimball for the defendant. This suit was on account of a cider press and other machinery required in the business, which was sold to John F. Wood. After the testimony of the plaintiff the defendants announced that they would make an appeal from any decision that the Judge might make. After consideration the case was decided in favor of the plaintiff.

John Currier was before the Judge on the charge of intoxication. He was arrested by Harry Cole. This was his first offense and sentence was suspended.

Mrs. Mary Adams Small Whitney

Mrs. Mary Adams Small Whitney died of heart decease at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Charlotte M. Pratt of Norway, Thursday, June 8th. She had been in feeble health for a number of years and had been tenderly cared for by her daughter.

She was born in Limington, Dec. 26, 1822, the daughter of Daniel and Mary Adams Small. She married Dr. Lewis Whitney in 1838 and lived in Yarmouth 70 years. Their children were Mrs. Pratt of Norway and Louis K. Whitney of Portland. The last of her three brothers died last year, Dr. A. K. P. Small. Mrs. Whitney's three nephews are Prof. A. W. Small and Dr. Charles Small of Chicago University and Dr. E. Frost of Brockton, Mass. She also has a number of neices.

She was one who entertained largely the leading men and women of her day. She was the oldest member of the Baptist church at Yarmouth.

The funeral was in Norway, Saturday, Rev. E. A. Davis of South Paris being the attending clergyman. The interment was at Yarmouth.

Mrs. Maurice B. Webb.

The many friends of Mrs. Maurice B. Webb of Bangor were greatly shocked Monday morning to learn of her sudden death which occurred Sunday night after a short illness at her home. While under the doctor's care, she was believed to be on the road to recovery and received a number of friends and relatives, Sunday afternoon. In the evening she suddenly died. The cause of death is diagnosed as heart disease. Mrs. Webb was in her 28th year.

Mrs. Webb had a wide acquaintance and was a woman highly esteemed by all who knew her. She is survived by her husband, four brothers and two sisters.

The funeral was held from her late residence, Tuesday. Maurice Webb is the son of the late T. L. and Annie Beal Webb and is a native of Norway.

Mrs. Harriet C. Tibbetts, Mrs. Charles C. Warren, Lawrence and Dorothy Warren of Boston are at the Beal's Hotel.

The Last Day of the Millett and Crockett Schools.

The writer attended the closing exercises of these schools which proved to be a very happy occasion, both to friends and parents as well as to the children.

The Millett school was invited to come down to the club house and unite with the Crockett school in a picnic dinner, after which the schools united and closed their year's work with songs, recitations and dialogues. The large number of seventy-five people attending expressed a great deal of enthusiasm, and spoke in the highest praise of the work of Miss Merrill and Mildred Holmes. This was Miss Holmes' second year, and by her persistent effort and love for children she has made fine success of this school, and won the love of both parents and children. Count Tolstoi once said the greatest thing the American people had done was to establish its thorough school system, and as we saw the people leaving their work and coming to these exercises, showing so much interest in their children, we said in our minds while "Righteousness Exalteth a Nation" certainly education through our school system will be the bulwark and safeguard of our republic.

Nathaniel Gammon.

Nathaniel Gammon died at Webb's Mills, Saturday, June 3, at 8:30 p. m. Three weeks before his death he fell down stairs and never fully regained consciousness. The wounds of themselves were not sufficient to have caused his death, but he had been sick in the winter, and his advanced age and lack of strength prevented his rallying as a younger person might. He died at the home of his wife's niece, Lois Butler, of Webb's Mills, where he was visiting.

Mr. Gammon was born in Raymond, Aug. 10, 1827, the son of Nathaniel and Mary (Hodgdon) Gammon. He was educated in the public schools in Raymond, and had lived in Casco, Saco and Lovell, and for the past 19 years with his son, M. F. Gammon, in Norway. He was an engineer and millwright. In politics he was a Republican, and in belief a Universalist, though not a regular attendant at church. He was a charter member of the Red Men at Mechanic Falls, and a member of Harry Rust Post, G. A. R.

Mr. Gammon married Julia A. Butler of Casco, who died at Norway in March, 1893. Their children were Marcellus F. of Norway, engineer; Mabel E., wife of David Morse, formerly of Norway, who died in April, 1895, and William D., laundryman, who when last heard from was living in Lewiston, Idaho. Three children died in infancy. Besides his two sons, he leaves three nephews, Charles and Mark Gammon of Welchville, and Frank Gammon of Portland; also ten grandchildren and six great-grandchildren, all of Norway.

Mr. Gammon was a soldier of the Civil War, having enlisted in the 25th Maine, Co. 5, as a nine months' man. He served over a year and was on the hospital force most of the time. He was a man who kept in touch with the outside world and was well informed and an interesting person to talk with on affairs generally. He retained his faculties up to the time of his last sickness.

The funeral was held Tuesday, June 6, at the church at Webb's Mills, Rev. Chas. Emery officiating. The bearers were Red Men from Mechanic Falls and the Red Men officiated as a society at the funeral. The remains were brought to Norway Pine Grove cemetery, where he rests beside his wife and children.

Human Hearts.

On June 22, 1911, the stage of the Norway Opera House will be devoted to the presentation of the popular and highly successful play, "Human Hearts," with a company of superior excellence and strength. The author of the play is an actor of wide experience and fully understands the art of playmaking from the standpoint of both spectator and actor. His effects are produced quickly, but none the less does he hold patent sway over the passions of his auditors.

The main thread of the story centers around Tom Logan, who is unjustly accused of murder, and sentenced to life imprisonment. His wife Jeanette, who is a proud, ambitious woman, runs away with an old lover, and goes to New York. Even in a woman degraded as she is, the instinct of motherhood prompts her to return to the old home to try to gain possession of her child Grace but she is frustrated in her design and the clouds of adversity are dispelled by the sweet sunshine of a true woman's love.

The Universalist Ladies' Circle will hold a food sale at Concert hall, Friday, June 16th, at 3 p. m.

Mr. and Mrs. J. K. Edwards of Conway, N. H., were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Edwards last week.

Mrs. E. E. Andrews and son Roland are visiting Mrs. Andrews' sister, Mrs. Edith Hebbard of Lynn, Mass.

Robert F. Bickford is making improvements in his new home, Lower Main street, and plans to be settled before July.

Bertha P. Reed of Rochester, N. Y., who is a missionary at Pekin, China, and an instructor in the North China Women's Union College, spoke at the Congregational church, Sunday evening. She spoke on the work of the institution among the Chinese women and need of more money and assistants to carry on this work. She also spoke of the awakening and progress of the nation during the past seven years, the abolishing of the raising of the poppy plant and the use of opium, and the effect of the great plague in awakening the Chinese nation to the realization of the need of true medical education. She told of the eagar desire of the women for education both in domestic matters and in the true religion. Miss Reed returns to China in about two months after a year's leave of absence. She is a very enthusiastic worker in the missionary field.

Needful Knowledge

Norway People Should Learn to Detect the Approach of Kidney Disease.

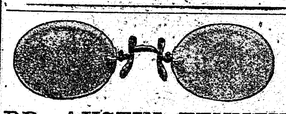

The symptoms of kidney trouble are so unmistakable that they leave no ground for doubt. Sick kidneys excrete a thick, cloudy, offensive urine, full of sediment, irregular of passage or attended by a sensation of scalding. The back aches constantly, headaches and dizzy spells may occur and the victim is often weighed down by a feeling of languor and fatigue. Neglect these warnings and there is danger of dropsy, Bright's disease, or diabetes. Any one of these symptoms is warning enough to begin treating the kidneys at once. Delay often proves fatal.

William O. Needham, Main St., Norway, Me., says: "Whenever I took cold, it settled on my kidneys and caused trouble. Several years ago I learned of Doan's Kidney Pills and since then, whenever I have felt my kidneys to be in need of a tonic, I have taken this remedy, procuring my supply at Stone's Drug Store. It has never failed to rid my system of uric acid and give me relief. I can recommend Doan's Kidney Pills as a reliable kidney remedy. 24-25

A Native of Fryeburg.

Edward Louis Osgood, banker, publisher and manufacturer, died at his home in Hopedale, Mass., Saturday, June 10th, at the age of 67 yeas. His death followed a paralytic shock sustained in Boston three months ago.

He was born in Fryeburg, August 6, 1844, and was graduated from Brown University in 1867.

He served in the Massachusetts House of Representatives in 1901 and 1902 and in the State Senate in 1903 and 1904

He married a sister of former Governor Eben S. Draper who survives him with four children, twin girls, Fanny C. Osgood, former eastern woman champion golfer, and Hanna R. Osgood, and two sons, E. Davis and Draper Osgood.

The F. A. ball team accompanied by their coach, William Mains, went to South Portland. As the last inning could not be finished the score was called 4 to 3 in favor of Fryeburg.

Friends of E. R. Simpson will regret to learn that he is confined to the Providence, R. I., hospital, the result of an accident in which he received painful but not necessarily serious injuries.

Mr. and Mrs. Lyman Hobbs have closed their house on Smith street and accompanied by Mrs. Lois Stanton, Mrs. Lydia Johnson and Florence Locklin have a cottage for the summer.

Flora Hebb of San Bernardino, Cal., a former teacher here, is on her way east. She will visit friends in Bridgton before coming to Fryeburg.

Mrs. Alice Burnell has returned from a visit to her sister, who is teaching in Whitingsville, Mass.

Dr. Irving E. Mabrey of Hiram has been appointed house surgeon at the Salem Hospital, Salem, Mass.

Alice Hubbard of Fryeburg and Frank Batchelder of Kezar Falls were married by Rev. H. H. Hoyt at the home of Mrs. Mary E. Young in Hiram on June 1st. The couple left immediately for Boston and vicinity. After a short wedding trip they will go to their new home at 160 Cumberland avenue, Portland. Mrs. Batchelder is an esteemed young woman in Fryeburg and Mr. Batchelder is an electrician in Portland.

A CHARMING WOMAN

is one who is lovely in face, form, mind and temper. But its hard for a woman to be charming without health. A weak, sickly woman will be nervous and irritable. Constipation and kidney poisons show in pimples, blotches, skin eruptions and a wretched complexion. But Electric Bitters always prove a Godsend to women who want health, beauty and friends. They regulate Stomach, Liver and Kidneys, purify the blood; give strong nerves, bright eyes, pure breath, smooth, velvety skin, lovely complexion and perfect health. A Ghost Story.

(Original.)

"I don't believe one word of it!" the voice was young and full of scorn.

"Well!" was the answer, "you dare not prove it—that's always the way with girls, they don't believe this and that, but they haven't courage enough to prove anything."

"Oh, yes, I bet I had as soon go there as you had yourself! Perhaps you're not so awful brave as you think."

The speakers were Marian Thurlow, who lived with her parents at Thurlow Farm, and her cousin, John Drew, from from Boston, who was rather inclined to tease his pretty cousin.

The young people were very fond of each other, but had many clashes as young folks are rather apt to do.

The question under discussion was ghosts and an old, so-called haunted house which sat in the edge of the woods about three-quarters of a mile from the Thurlow Farm.

The rest of the story I will tell as Marion told it to me.

"Well, John teased me and said that if I didn't believe one word about ghosts that I daren't go near the old house after dark, and it ended in our stumping one another to go to the house some night between nine and midnight.

"We were to enter at one door, pass through the house and out at the other side, dropping our handkerchief in the house to prove that we had really been there.

"I determined to go the first moonlight night. The very next night was dark and rainy, and I knew that John was not going that night either for he and I played checkers until well into the evening.

"The second night was beautifully clear with just a tiny cloud showing in the west. I slipped on an old light dress, for I knew that the dew was heavy, and creeping softly from the back door to avoid waking my parents, sped swiftly down the road. John had gone to the postoffice and probably would not be home until late.

"I will confess that I was nervous and when I stepped on a big toad beside the road I jumped and screamed. An old owl back in the woods hooted dismally, and when I came within sight of the haunted house I was prepared for most anything in the way of frights.

"I decided to go to the back side of the house and then come through so as to be going toward the light with the dark behind me instead of vice versa.

"When I reached the back of the house my heart was beating so violently that I sat down on an old fallen tree to collect my courage and resolution, telling myself how silly I was to be afraid of an old empty house.

"My thoughts were interrupted by a distant roll of thunder and springing to my feet I rushed toward the back door for I was more afraid of being caught away from home in a shower than of all the ghosts that ever walked or floated in mid air.

"As I rushed across the doorsill the creeper of some old vine caught my feet and I crashed to the floor upon my hands and knees. In the empty house it sounded like some one playing billiards. Imagine my horror when my exclamation was immediately followed by a loud bang within the next room and a smothered groan.

"I stood rooted to the spot and the top of my head felt hot and prickly. I suppose my hair was trying to stand on end. At that moment there came a terrific flash of lightning and I distinctly saw at the farther side of the room and standing in the open doorway—my cousin John. He was holding his hands across his eyes and so did not see me.

"I guessed at once that he had run into the half-open door in the darkness and the groan was solely his. A wicked scheme now entered my head. He had teased and ridiculed me to the last extreme and here was a chance for revenge.

"Crouching in a corner of the room so as to be screened from succeeding flashes I emitted the most hollow, spectral groan ever uttered by ghost or man.

"I heard John start, and catch his breath quickly. I waited a moment and groaned again. It was followed by a crash and muttered imprecation from the other side of the room. Poor John had run violently into something else and was plainly hunting in the pitchy darkness for the outside door.

"With my hand on the side of the wall to guide me I softly moved to the end of the room, where I tapped lightly on the wall three times and issued a series of moans and groans. This was evidently too much and by the haste expressed in the groping my brave gentleman was becoming slightly alarmed. My hand came in contact with an old curtain and I shook it lightly and tapped again but John had at last found the door and in trying to make a rapid exit had come to grief by the same vine as had tripped me.

"He went sprawling over the steps on to the ground and it was with difficulty that I repressed a laugh, but as he lay still and showed no signs of rising my mirth changed to fear. I waited a moment and then rushed out to him. He had struck his head on a rock and was unconscious.

"At this instant the rain began to fall in torrents. I knelt taking John's head in my lap and I am afraid my repentant tears were mixed with the rain.

"The rain had one good effect, and soon John showed signs of returning reason. He shortly recovered except for a terrible headache and we set out, amid blinding flashes and pouring rain, for home. I was so conscience stricken I told John the whole story and he forgave me freely, even owning up that he was thoroughly frightened and oh! we neither of us thought anything about leaving our handkerchiefs."

THE PARK & POLLARD CO.

SOUTH WATERFORD.

Teacher in Virginia.

Alice M. Hamlin, who for the past year has filled the position of instructor in elocution and gymnastics in the Mary Baldwin Seminary at Staunton, Va., is spending her summer vacation at her parental home.

The institution mentioned is one of the oldest schools in Virginia for the higher education of women, and offers the best facilities for the mental and physical culture, and draws its pupils from nearly every state and from some foreign countries. Miss Hamlin will return in the autumn for another year's service in professional work.

W. K. Hamlin recently purchased a fine automobile of a dealer in the county. It is a Ford, but comes of a Western maker.

Mrs. Daniel Green, who has been prostrated by serious illness, is reported to be more comfortable and her friends are hoping for her complete recovery.

Comrade Granville Fernald is visiting friends in Oxford and Lewiston this week, and incidentally the State Encampment, G. A. R., in Augusta, D. V.

Oscar E. Bell of Egan, South Dakota is visiting his relatives in his native town and vicinity, and is staying with his brother, Frank Bell, in the Blackguard Neighborhood.

Prentiss Kimball, who beat all board records last year in raising potatoes, has planted six acres of sweet corn and two acres of yellow corn this year, and a sizable piece of potatoes.

Mr. and Mrs. Josiah Monroe of Philadelphia have been spending a number of days in their bungalow near the head of Lake Keoka, where a garage is being erected for an automobile which will make its appearance in a few days.

Ralph, the young son of Frank Willard, has recently had two very gratifying tests of fisherman's luck, having on different days caught two fine salmon, both in the five pound class and upward.

W. W. Watson has been sawing a lot of fir shingles, four feet long, for covering the roof of the mill. He has had many years of experience with that kind of shingles and says they wear better than most other kinds in general use.

The scribe wishes to correct the statement in last week's items concerning the locality whence a large number of startling explosions were heard. Instead of being near the town house as was presumed, said detonations were from a blasting operation in W. K. Hamlin's pasture, where a lot of big boulders are being removed to make a good chance to "break up" for further planting.

And now comes Emmie Young from her quiet school-room at North Waterford, and with a little party of friends goes rowing and fishing on Echo Lake (Bear Pond) and with her slender rod essays to lure the shy Salino Fontinchis from the cool depths of the lake. She does not angle for small fish of inferior pedigree, and lo:—

In answer to her fervent wish
Upon her hook she finds a fish;
And without any hoax or gammon

Yes sir! It was a five and a half pounder, and it is the latest holiday sensation.

Mexico High School.

The Mexico High school held its graduating exercises Wednesday evening, June 7th, in the Congregational church which was crowded with an interesting audience. The pupils had decorated the church with wild and cut flowers, ferns and branches. The class motto, "Ever Onward, Never Backward," was conspicuous in the decorations and the class colors, pink and pile green, were prettily combined. At the close of the program, a reception to the parents and friends was held, when Leon M. Small, chairman of the supervising school committee, with the pupils of the graduating class, were in the receiving line. There were nine graduates, this being the largest class in the history of the school. The program interspersed with music follows:—

Orchard Spraying Experiments.

The Maine Agricultural Experiment Station is now sending to its mailing list a bulletin on the spraying of orchards for the control of insect and fungous pests. It contains a discussion of spraying experiments in the past, the problem of "spray injury" or "Bordeaux injury" and the substitution of lime-sulphur preparations for Bordeaux as fungicides. The bulletin gives a review of the results of spraying with lime-sulphur in the past; also the action of the several sprays when combined with arsenate of lead.

Mrs. Addie A. Evans.

Mrs. Addie A. Evans of Portland died at C. N. Tubbs', Monday, June 12th, aged 55 years, 11 months and 12 days.

Mrs. Evans was the daughter of Orin and Elizabeth P. Horr Tubbs, and since the death of her husband several years ago had lived with her parents. The family bought a pleasant home on Beal street and moved here from Gorham, N. H. After the death of Mr. Tubbs, Mrs. Tubbs and Mrs. Evans lived in their home here till last fall when, because of failing health, they sold and went to Portland with Mrs. Tubbs' son, Atwood Tubbs. Mrs. Tubbs died last spring and Mrs. Evans had suffered during the winter from a shock and heart trouble, and for a time was nearly helpless. She had recovered in a great measure and came to Norway for a visit, Sunday, while at the table, she went in the kitchen for something and the family hearing a fall, found her on the floor. A physician was quickly called and she regained consciousness, and lived till the next day.

Mrs. Evans was a member of Norway Grange. She was a constant attendant at the services at the Congregational church, and took an active part in the church work.

The funeral was from C. N. Tubbs', Wednesday at 1 30 p. m., Rev. R. J. Bruce attending. The interment was in the family lot at Pine Grove.

Col. and Mrs. J. A. Schwartz of Baltimore, Md., are at the Beal's hotel.

EAST STONEHAM.

Mrs. Sally H. Whitehouse.

The community was saddened by the death of Mrs. Sally H. Whitehouse, aged 92 years, wife of the late John C. Whitehouse.

She died June 4, 1911, at 3 30 o'clock Sunday morning, after a long and painful illness, being confined to her bed most of the time for the past year, during which time she has been cared for by her daughters. She was of a cheerful and sunny disposition and bore her sufferings with great fortitude, longing for the time when she would be released from all her pains.

She leaves one son, two daughters, fourteen grandchildren, forty seven great grandchildren, twelve great, great grandchildren to mourn the loss of a loving mother and grandmother.

The funeral was held Tuesday afternoon at two o'clock at the residence of her daughter, Mrs. Mary A. Stearns.

The Rev. Mr. Hague spoke words of comfort to the sorrowing family. Interment at the East Stoneham cemetery. The floral tributes were large and beautiful as follows:

In Norway's Company. The Citizens have Taken Great Pride in this Company for Many Years Because it is Made up of Citizens in Norway and Vicinity.

Norway, Me., June 5, 1911.

EDITOR ADVERTISER:—I wish to ask, through the columns of your valuable paper, why the citizens of Norway do not take more interest in the Norway Light Infantry, offically known as Co. D 2nd Regt, Inf. N. G. S. M ?

The company is one of the oldest in the state and one that stands high in the estimation of all of its superior officers. For the last seven or eight years that I have been connected with the company there has been nothing but praise for its work both in the Armory and in the Field. The reports of the State Inspector gives it a place well up in Marksmanship Drill Regulation, Guard Duty last but not least, Military Courtesy, with a mark of 100 per cent. efficiency.

This company is getting words of praise, both State and National. The company rifle team is known from one end of the United States to the other and has won the New England Company team championship three times in the last five years.

The men that compose the company are those whose character will stand any investigation and all are working hard to upbuild its integrity.

Through this letter I wish to appeal to the fathers, the mothers and wives not to place any objections in the way of their sons and husbands if they make any wish to enlist in the company for they will only be preparing themselves for that emergency when all citizens flock to the protection of the Flag.

By enlisting now in time of peace they learn those things most essential to the soldier and make him more valuable and consequently a very much higher rank is given them than those that wait until they are actually wanted.

Co. D wants twenty men to fill the company up to the required strength. It seems to me that there is enough young men in the town of Norway to fill the vacancy if there was not some vital reason for their not doing so.

Yours Respectfully,
L. H. DAUGHRATY,
Capt. Com'd'g. Co. D.

SHE GOT WHAT SHE WANTED

This Woman Had to Insist Strongly, but it Paid

Chicago, Ill.—"I suffered from a female weakness and stomach trouble, and I went to the store to get a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, but the clerk did not want to let me have it—he said it was no good and wanted me to try something else, but knowing all about it I insisted and finally got it, and I am so glad I did, for it has cured me.

"I know of so many cases where women have been cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound that I can say to every suffering woman if that medicine does not help her, there is nothing that will."—Mrs. JANETZKI, 2963 Arch St., Chicago, Ill.

This is the age of substitution, and women who want a cure should insist upon Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound just as this woman did, and not accept something else on which the druggist can make a little more profit.

Women who are passing through this critical period or who are suffering from any of those distressing ills peculiar to their sex should not lose sight of the fact that for thirty years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, which is made from roots and herbs, has been the standard remedy for female ills. In almost every community you will find women who have been restored to health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

BOLSTER'S MILLS.

Jennie Akers has opened her house for the summer.

A. R. Clark was in Auburn several days on business.

George Cummings is in Raymond engaged in surveying.

B. Pike and family called on Mrs. Olivia Pike, Sunday.

Georgia Horr of Bridgton was a guest at Hotel Weston, Sunday.

J. D. Horr and wife have gone to Bath to attend the Universalist conference.

John Henry Edwards and sister, Ella Meserve from Otisfield Gore attended church service.

Lizzie Edwards and Stella Bolster made a week-end visit with relatives in North Norway.

Mrs. Horace Walker and Mrs. Wilmot Walker of Harrison were visiting relatives Saturday.

Harry Lowell has entertained John Elden and wife of Oxford with friends, also Dr. Haskell of Bridgton.

Arthur Hancock has gone to Norway where Mr. Hancock has purchased a house and moved his furniture.

Fred Bolster is repairing the house he purchased last week and will improve the same. Herbert Noble is doing the carpenter work.

Joseph Pitts has sold the Atkinson place which he recently purchased to Prentiss Fogg of South Harrison, who will move there.

Winfield Staples of Bridgton Center walked over one day, and said that although he had a fine horse in his stable he preferred to walk.

I. Cobb has finished his work on the river.

J. H. Porter No More.

We publish from the Daily Northwestern of Oshkosh, Wis, the following about a native of Oxford County whom many of us know:—

Joseph H. Porter, retired capitalist and pioneer lumberman, died at 7 o'clock Tuesday evening, May 30th, at his home.

Few persons outside Mr. Porter's family circle knew of the seriousness of his illness, which had been of about two weeks' duration. He was eighty-five years of age.

The funeral services were held Friday afternoon at 2 30 o'clock at the house. The remains were interred at Riverside cemetery.

The death of Mr. Porter removes a man who was twice elected mayor of Oshkosh on the Democratic ticket, the first time in 1867 and again in 1869, notwithstanding that he never sought public office.

It was only a short time ago, on March 4, that "Uncle Joe Porter," as so many knew him, entertained two other patriarchs at dinner in honor of the triple birthday.

Mr. Porter was probably as well known as any man in Oshkosh. It was his habit to visit the Old National Bank, in which he was a director, every day. He was also regularly seen at the Elks' club, and at different business places about the city, although he had been out of regular business occupation for quite a number of years.

During the summer months he made several visits each week to his sheep farm near Eureka. Mr. Porter was also a visitor at Berlin, where he was president of the First National Bank; at Fond du Lac National Bank, where he was connected with the bank, and at Milwaukee, where he was a stockholder in the Wisconsin National Bank. Since the organization of the Wisconsin National Bank, Mr. Porter had missed only one stockholders' meeting—his absence on that occasion being due to an accident he suffered.

Mrs. Porter died in 1864. A son, Frank Porter, met his death a number of years ago by the accidental discharge of his gun while hunting near Lake Butte des Morts. Those who survive are a daughter, Mrs. Helen Porter Fitch; a grandson, Joseph P. Fitch; a sister, Mrs. Solomon Millett of Norway, Me.; and a nephew, Junot Porter of Eureka.

Mr. Porter was a native of Maine. He was born in Oxford county of that state March 4, 1826, his parents being Scotch-English, coming from the Porter and Hicks families which settled in Massachusetts during the early colonial days. Mr. Porter's father was successful in farming and in lumbering, and he was a man who devoted considerable time to his children's training. Joseph Porter did not, however, possess exceptional educational advantages, for the only school available was a common school at Paris, which he attended while not engaged in work about the farm. However, he obtained a practical knowledge of English and he gained a strong physical constitution, together with habits of industry and thrift which country life induces.

Reaching manhood, Mr. Porter left home and went to Massachusetts, where for two years he did farm work. In 1847 he secured employment as foreman of a gang of men employed on construction work for the Grand Trunk railroad, and later on he began similar work on the New York Central & Hudson River railroad.

When gold was discovered in California, Joseph Porter's young blood was stirred, as he often related in his later years, and he gathered his meager resources and sailed from New York on the steamer Illinois, proceeding to Aspinwall, on the Isthmus of Panama, which he crossed, sailing again from Panama to San Francisco. It was only a matter of hours after reaching the Golden Gate city that the young man was armed with pick and shovel on his way to the diggings. He staked a claim on a fork of the American river and worked it for two years; worked hard and endured the privations of the early gold miners.

He came out of the hills in 1854 with considerable gold, which he turned into cash at San Francisco. Then he started for New York. Arriving at his home, Mr. Porter shortly afterwards married Sarah Holmes of Paris, Me.

After he had looked about to see where his money could be best invested and where he could do the best in business, Mr. Porter started for Oshkosh, a lumbering town of about 4,000 population at that time. He possessed a good constitution, a capacity for work, an appreciation of the value of money, and a limited knowledge of lumber. Thus equipped, he took up his residence at Oshkosh.

The saw mill which he erected was destroyed by fire after two years, but the plant was rebuilt, and year after year Mr. Porter's business increased, while the people of the community grew more and more to place their confidence in the quiet, fair-dealing man.

It was in 1871 that he sold his mill and gave up the manufacture of lumber. He took up timber lands in northern Wisconsin and in the upper peninsula of Michigan, and for many years he continued to make wise investments which his years of experience made possible. His logging operations were carried on chiefly on the Shioc and Little Wolf rivers.

A man of temperate habits, Mr. Porter's health was always good, and in action and conversation in late years he seemed far from being an octogenerian.

Two weeks ago Mr. Porter, although able to be about the house, felt badly, the indisposition continuing for several days. Finally, on Thursday, May 18, he retired to his room and he had been in bed ever since that day. A severe stomach trouble, together with general debility, due to his age, caused the end.

The Summit Spring Hotel is to be opened the last of June.

Falling Hair.

Stop it in Two Weeks. Ask Frank Kimball, Proprietor of the Noyes Drug Store, About Parisian Sage.

Hair falls out because the dandruff germs dig into the hair roots and sap them of their vitality. They appropriate the natural nourishment that supplies life and luster to the hair.

To stop falling hair you must kill the germs. Parisian Sage is guaranteed by Frank Kimball, proprietor of the Noyes Drug Store, to kill dandruff germs, banish dandruff, stop falling hair and itching scalp, or money back. If your hair is thinning out Parisian Sage will promote a new growth. Clever women use it because it makes the hair brilliant and beautiful and is not sticky or greasy. Large bottle 50 cents. 52&24

WEST PORTER.

John Hubbard is still better.

Mrs. Sally Downs is failing fast.

In Freedom, N. H., near West Porter, one of our old friends, Joseph Sargent, after a long and lingering sickness, passed on to a new life, June 1st, at the age of 46 years, 1 month, 6 days. Services were held at his late home, Sunday, by Rev. Wm. Cotton of Waterboro, under the Order of Odd Fellows. He leaves a wife and four children, an aged father and a host of friends to mourn their loss.

L. L. Thompson is putting in a foundation for Lois Carn.

J. T. Libby made a business trip to Cornish, Monday.

Laura Rogers is very sick at her daughter's, Mrs. Horace Day's.

Alonzo Brooks lost a year-old colt by lightening in a shower, recently.

Mr. and Mrs. Freeman Day of Cornish visited her mother, Mary M. Day, Sunday.

Mrs. Sally Downs, after being confined to her bed the past ten years, passed on to a higher life, June 5th, at the good old age of 86 years, 3 months and 15 days. He life has been one of the best and showed that her Savior was her best friend. She bore her suffering without a murmer. Aunt Sally seemed to be always ready to work in the church, but for the last few years of her life was confined to the house, yet her God was ever willing to sustain and bless her. Services were held at her late home, June 8th, by Rev. A. G. Davis of Bonny Eagle. He spoke words of comfort to the bereaved ones, and addressed the many friends who gathered to bid Aunt Sally a last good bye, but not forever, and hope to meet again in the sweet bye-and-bye, where peace and joy will never end. Eugene Stanley of Kezar Falls had charge. Bearers were Roscoe Libby, Tobias Libby, Lewis Thomas and William Philbrick, all old neighbors of the deceased.

Quick Relief for Biliousness.

The sufferer from this distressing complaint is only too familiar with all its disturbing symptoms:—loss of appetite, headache, dizziness, nausea and vomiting, oftentimes meaning prostration for two or three days and the consequent loss of time from regular duties. Such attacks vary in frequency and duration with different individuals, but there is really no occasion for them to occur at all. That old reliable household medicine "L. F." Atwood's Bitters, taken in teaspoonful doses, morning and night, rarely fails to wholly prevent an attack of sick headache or biliousness. If this preventive measure has not been adopted, a dessertspoonful when the first symptoms appear, will almost invariably ward off a severe attack. It may be obtained in large bottles, of any dealer, for thirty-five cents, or sample free for the asking. L. F. Medicine Co., Portland, Maine.
